SCOUTING HIGHLIGHTS IN THE DAN BEARD COUNCIL

2022 Eagle Scout Project of the Year

Jacob Hams of Troop 7 in the Fort Ancient District earned the 2022 Eagle Project of the Year. Jacob completed his service project at the Camp Wesley West-Ohio Conference United Methodist Church Camp in May of 2022 improving the camp's trail system. The result of Jacob's hard work and effective leadership in delegation was a cleaned up and rerouted trail system consisting of 13 trail kiosks, two new trail segments, added trail markers, and an updated trail map. In the end, his project totaled 381 man hours. Jacob was awarded his Eagle Rank and the prestigious recognition of "Eagle Project of the Year" at the Dan Beard Council Eagle Scout Court of Honor in February of 2023.

Dan Beard Council Continues to Drive Diversity

In 2022, Dan Beard Council boasted over 1,100 female Scouts and saw 11 young women earn the rank of Eagle Scout (tied for a council record). Scouting's rich heritage has stood the test of time for more than 110 years. Together we have grown and evolved embracing the universal value of inclusivity while always holding true to BSA's core ideals and values such as kindness, integrity, respect, courtesy, and care for others. Ideals like the Scout Oath and Scout Law have prepared millions of children for a lifetime of leadership and success.

Peterloo Returned in 2022

Peterloo is one of the oldest and largest camporees in the nation. This past year, Dan Beard Council hosted over 4,300 Cub Scouts and Scouts BSA from around the country. The camporee is an experience for Scouts full of activities, exhibitions/vendors, campsites, unit engagement, and camp-wide programs. All Scouts had the chance to engage with thousands of other Scouts within the three unique adventurous activity areas: "Prepared for Life", "Prepared for Adventure", and "Prepared for Competition". A few lucky Scouts even had the chance to participate in a game of Gaga ball with Cincinnati's Mayor who made a special appearance at Saturday events.
